It's official now - the EMEA Summit 2009 will be held in Vienna from Sunday November 29 until Wednesday December 2. Our team is currently finalizing the details on the venue, but this promises to be very interesting event - after all, the event will be a few weeks before Christmas and then Vienna is already in a festive mood. For the participants of our EMEA Summit this will be an excellent opportunity to dive deep into our famous Hands-On labs and other activities during the Summit and then enjoy the scenery and the shopping before or after our event, That is indeed a great mix and therefore it is not so strange that almost 10% of the available seats have been booked already!

During the many years that we organize these events, we listen very carefully to our participants and learn a lot from their remarks. One of these remarks is- be as early as possible with dates and other details, so we can plan ahead. So here you go, the dates are Sunday November 29 (registration, dinner and bonus session in the evening) until Wednesday December 2, when the event will end at 17:00. All VIP services will be available again, like a Meet&Greet team at the airport and so on.

The package is All-Inclusive, so all meals, 3 hotel nights, USB hard-drive and so are included. The normal price for the full price will be 1.895 Euro, the Early Bird discount is 200 Euro. Members of associated user-groups receive an additional 200 Euro discount, so they are entitled for a total of 400 Euro discount.

As we value your opinion in creating this event, we have a feedback form available at this page, where you can tell us what subjects you would like to see in the event and what other ideas you have.

Registration is open already at www.open-horizons.net/emea-summit/register
